

Sustainable Bolivia

English teacher

Sustainable Bolivia is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization in the Bolivian Amazon that partners with local initiatives to provide resources that support ecotourism, regenerative agriculture, health and education. Volunteers and interns are placed with partner NGOs throughout the country, namely in and around Riberalta, Bolivia.

Sustainable Bolivia is partnering up with two orphanages based in Riberalta and with around 20 children each from 2 to 18 years old. They provide emotional support and implementing activities such as music, physical education, arts, dance, gardening or mindfulness activities.

RESPONSIBILITIES MAY INCLUDE:

- Preparing and implementing the English classes in a dynamic way in order to make participate all the children with different levels (min. 3 times per week)
- Assisting children with homework, art projects and presentations
- Providing direct care to infants and toddlers
- Providing one-on-one support to special needs students

QUALIFICATIONS:

- Minimum commitment of 1 month
- Basic Spanish
- Experience working with youth preferred
- Experience teaching English
- Patience and flexibility, ability to work with little supervision
- Due to the large proportion of boys males are especially encouraged to apply

WHAT DO WE OFFER?

- Orientation upon arrival
- Accommodation available in the volunteers' house or host family
- Cultural support and language school available

